Why Georgetown Slate?

At IMC, we like bringing our customers directly to the source. We act as your advocate, and your eyes and ears overseas. Are your prices in the United States too high? Are you being underbid by competitors who have lower cost suppliers? At IMC we make it our goal to find the product you need, and to find a price for that product to make your company competitive.

Direct – Georgetown Slate is imported directly from quarries in China, meaning that you are getting a product directly from the source. This means that you save money, as parts of the supply chain have been cut out, bringing you directly to the source.

Quality – Georgetown Slate is regularly tested by an approved ASTM laboratory. We also personally inspect every container leaving our quarries with our people on the ground in China, meaning that every crate you receive from us will be in one piece, ready to be installed.
